Explorer Jackson Sends Back a Record of His Trip.

ARCTIC BEARS NUMEROUS.

Many of the Animals Shot For Food. Men Who Ate the Meat Did Not Die of Scurvy—Ponies Prove Valuable. Franz Josef Land an Elevated Plateau. Extreme Cold Weather Experienced.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The documents from Explorer Jackson, which were brought back by the Windward after leaving the explorer on Franz Josef Land, and which were kept sealed up in one of the cabins of the Windward during her return trip, were opened yesterday and the papers were found to record that the expedition landed at Cape Flora on Sept. 7, where they erected loghouses. All the members were given certain duties to insure regular exercise.

Bear soon appeared to the number of 30 and together with eight walrus were killed and added to the winter's provisions. The only men who died of scurvy refused to eat bear meat. The winter was very tempestuous, and the Arctic bears prowled around the logcabins and even looked in at the windows.

The winter darkness ended on Feb. 23. Jackson and two others started north on March 10 with two ponies and two sledges. The temperature was sometimes 45 degrees below zero. The ponies proved to be invaluable for clambering over hammocks in the ice. The country generally was at a height of 2,500 feet and was covered with ice sheets, which were interrupted along the coast by high basaltic cliffs, on which were found mosses and Arctic flowers.

The journey revealed many inaccuracies in the charts. The land was found on the Austria coast line to be very different than is shown by the maps of the Austrian expedition. Sea islands were found where the main land was supposed to exist.

The furthest point reached was latitude 81 degrees and 20 minutes north, where two boats were left for use later in the summer. Three depots were also established en route. Many geological specimens were taken, which show that the formation of the land is mainly basaltic.

A second journey began in April and ended in the middle of May. It was attended with stormy weather and frequently the temperature was 50 degrees below zero. Progress was difficult on account of the deep crevasses and the morasses of mud.

SURPRISED THE BOY.

Lady Teacher of Physical Culture Gives an Unruly Scholar a Black Eye.

McKEESPORT, Pa., Oct. 24.—Miss Henrietta Francis, a teacher in the Walnut street public school, is being investigated by the board of education. She teaches physical culture, and in addition to being clever at fancy gymnastics is said to be a fair boxer. One of her pupils was John Norton, aged 14, whose conduct in the classroom did not please the teacher. Several times she reproved him, but this had little effect. Last week, it is said, the boy got more unruly than usual while the teacher was giving instructions in physical culture. She says he struck at her with a book. Then she planted herself firmly and shot out her right. This was followed by her left, and before Norton could recover from his surprise he had a black eye. He went home, told his parents and the latter preferred charges against the teacher. She admits having struck him in the face with her fists, but says she was compelled to do it in self-defense. The board of controllers have heard all the testimony, but have not rendered a decision. Some of them commend the actions of the teacher.

CAPTAIN BECK SUSTAINED.

Settlers Holding Leases From the Flouring Land Company Must Go.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The United States supreme court has dismissed the appeal of the Flouring Land company of Nebraska in the matter of the leases of the lands of the Winnebago Indians. In a report recently submitted to the Indian office, Captain Beck, the agent, said that an early dismissal of the case would result in a speedy settlement of all the troubles. In every case so far tried and in every court the decision has been in favor of Captain Beck and against the Flouring company.

TESTIMONY ALL IN.

Miss Carrie Cunningham Tells What She Knows About Durrant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—After a bitter legal struggle lasting three months the testimony in the trial of Theodore Durrant is all in and today the argument commenced.

Miss Carrie Cunningham, a newspaper reporter who visited Durrant at the prison frequently, testified that Durrant told her he saw Blanche Lamont on the second floor of the belfry where she was murdered. While engaged in fixing a sunburner, Miss Cunningham said, he told her he heard a suspicious noise in the belfry which attracted his attention. He crept along the ceiling of the church until he came to the belfry casing, where he looked through a crack and saw Miss Lamont.

Miss Cunningham's testimony was obtained only after a great number of objections made by the defense had been argued and ruled upon. An effort was made to secure a statement from the witness with regard to an alleged confession made by Durrant, but the court sustained an objection to the question.

On one of Miss Cunningham's visits to the prisoner he is said to have shown her an envelope addressed to his attorneys marked: "To be opened if I am convicted and to be returned if I am acquitted."

The witness was subjected to a rigid cross-examination, in which an effort was made to show the means to which she had resorted to obtain interviews with Durrant. She said at the suggestion of the newspaper by which she was employed she expressed the greatest friendship for the prisoner and frequently sent him papers, magazines and flowers. She denied that she ever took an oath and kissed the bible after promising Durrant not to publish anything he told her. She said she promised Durrant she would not publish anything he told her, and kept her word.

It is not known exactly how many Utes are in Colorado, but they are estimated at 500 men with half as many women.

IT IS ALL SETTLED.

The Telephone Litigation at an End. New Company Formed. Open at Once.

The telephone troubles are at an end in Greencastle and we will from now on have good service and the news can now be telephoned to No. 95. A deal was closed this morning by which a new company is to be formed and the instruments setting ring again. Messrs. Jesse W. Weik and F. G. Gilmore have purchased a controlling interest in the company and with the old Local Telephone company consisting of Messrs. Nelson and Grafton Johnson are the stockholders in the new company. The company's stock is capitalized at $8000 and the business will at once be put in good shape. The exchange will probably be opened this afternoon or tomorrow and the telephone service will be started. The new company will put in force the franchise granted to the Greencastle Local Telephone company.

The happy solution of the tangle is one that the citizens of Greencastle will rejoice in. There has been too much delay and matters will now it is hoped run smoothly. A full day and night service will be given by the new company. An election of officers will be held which will be announced in these columns later.

The Phoenix company is collecting the claims against them this afternoon and will settle the same so the Greencastle company can be given work at once without any hindrances. The people should congratulate themselves over the successful outcome of the exceedingly tough looking knot into which the business was tied. It is again fashionable to say "hello."

Is a Poor Recommendation

You can only reach the great, wide world through the public press. If you wish to have your town, your county, your state, prosper and be known to the world, you must use the medium of the public press. A local paper going to the world with no advertisement of the home merchants and dealers, will not carry a good impression for the place where it is printed. The local paper coming out full of patent medicine, foreign wagons and sewing machine advertisements is a poor recommendation for the town.

The pensions which will become due November 4, will go a long way toward paying taxes, due November 18.

The chapter at DePauw was initiated April 2, 1887. At the close of the fall term of 1882-3, about a dozen neutrals, feeling that they were not receiving sufficient literary training in the two literary societies because of Greek letter fraternity factions, formed an Organized Barb Association, in opposition to the "spoils system" of the fraternities. A member could resign at will to join a fraternity. The association became a stepping-stone to fraternities, and this grew to be so annoying that the steadfast members began looking for a remedy. The idea of joining a fraternity of good standing was suggested. Correspondence with a southern fraternity proved unsatisfactory, and some favored disbanding, but others determined to inquire about the strong eastern fraternities. The number of the DePauw Monthly of January, 1886, contained a statement of the standing of the different fraternities, and it was decided that the Delta

Upsilon was the best of the number. Correspondence with the Michigan chapter and the executive council of the Delta Upsilon brought encouraging replies, and after investigation by a fraternity committee, the DePauw chapter was admitted.

At the business session this morning President Gobin welcomed the fraternity men to the university. He was followed by Prof. Cook, who welcomed the visiting brothers to the DePauw chapter and the Indiana alumni. The speakers were responded to by Mr. Hudson from Brown university. Mr. Noyes, of Tufts college, was to have made the response but was unable on account of being sick. Every chapter is represented but Harvard. Harvard had selected her delegate and he had made arrangements to come but was prevented at the last moment.

Clear Creek Church Cremated.

For forty years or more Clear Creek Baptist church in the eastern part of Floyd township, had held its own against rain wind and storm. The storm part of the business was not altogether on the outside. Like some other churches this one had divided and it is said it was over whether a certain convert should or should not be baptized. The split grew and of late years there had been much discontent. Matters reached a temporary adjustment some time ago by one faction agreeing to use the church one day and the other faction the next. It is said that this agreement fell through with finally and that both factions wanted to meet on the same night next month. They won't meet in the Clear Creek any more for the church went up in flames last Sunday night, and it is rumored that some incendiary applied a torch. The end is not yet as there may be some legal proceedings in the future. It is hardly necessary to add that the devil generally has a smile on his face when factions come up in a church.

Indications pointed towards the accumulation of impurities in the blood and germs of disease. I was constipated and had no appetite. I evidently needed a good blood purifier and decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It made a change all through my system, gave me an appetite and worked effectively on my blood. I am now perfectly well, my blood has been put in good order, thanks to Hood's." W. G. SKINNER.

DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

THE BEST NEWS OF OUR GREAT AND GROWING INSTITUTION.

The Students' Doings—Their College and Social Life Their Guests—Incidents and Notes of the Bright Lives of Many Young Men and Women Told by Special Reporter.

F. W. Field, law '94, is visiting friends and attending the Delta U convention.

Miss Mabel Yenna visited friends in Cloverdale yesterday.

The board of directors of the Athletic association met yesterday afternoon.

The committee that is raising funds for the grand stand for the new park is meeting with marked success. The business men are responding very liberally. A complete list of subscriptions will be published when the work of solicitation is over.

The Crawfordsville Journal of day before yesterday contained the biggest batch of hog wash on the DePauw-Wabash foot ball game that has come to our notice. Amid the course of the contagion of its slimy remarks it says that the DePauw boys did not kick on the unfairness of the referee and umpire. This is a lie on the face of it. At every unfair decision a protest was made but with no avail, and if the Journal man did not hear them he must have had his fingers in his ears. Even after the game the DePauw boys told everyone who inquired about the game of the unfair and unkind manner in which they were treated. In the same article the inquiry is made if it was the umpire and referee that went through DePauw's line and around her ends. No it was not, and no one did this with any great success and it would not have been done to any extent whatever, unless Wabash had not been given the ball unfairly. A number of the players on the team, whose veracity cannot be questioned, informed us that nearly every decision that was made was unfair and we expect they know about as much about it as the Journal reporter who stood on the side lines and who, perhaps, knew nothing about the game, and concentrated his energies on the butt end of a stale cheroot, and who continually urged on and encouraged the robbery of the so called fair umpire and referee and thus become a party to the crime.

Mr. Sluss, of Muncie, is attending the convention.

D. V. Williams officiated at a wedding at Bellville Sunday.

Mr. Orth, of the preparatory school, is very ill. Dr. Poole thinks he is threatened with typhoid fever.

Jim Sprinkle, formerly of '97, is visiting Phi Gam brothers and friends.

Frank Takasugi will lecture tomorrow evening at Racoon.

Miss Hannah Rinn, of Covington, is the guest of Alpha Chi sisters.

Be sure to attend chapel tomorrow. Chapel will meet at 11:45.

Ernest Conrad, '95, who is studying medicine at Indianapolis, is here attending the Delta U convention.

Mr. Meredith, '87, of Muncie, is the guest of Delta U brothers.

Mr. Cotley, '99, is very sick.

After chapel today the students had the pleasure of listening to some fine music made on the Italian harp and violin by some traveling musicians.

FOOT BALL NOTES.

The work of interference on end plays and going around the end were the main features of yesterday's practice.

A traveling man, who is an old foot ball player and who has witnessed a large number of the western teams practice this year, was on the field yesterday evening and made the remark that DePauw's practice was as good as any he had seen this season.

Mr. Early, who has been here the past few days representing the Terre Haute drug house, sold the Athletic association a large bill of drugs for use in foot ball training.

The team will leave for St. Louis at noon Friday, on the Big Four. They will return Saturday night.

Several members of the team have received handsome offers to go elsewhere to play.

This afternoon's practice will be the last before the great Missouri game.

NOTES FROM OTHER COLLEGES.

The Purdue foot ball team is now practicing behind closed doors, not even the professors are to be admitted during practice games. Mr. Balliett is working hard with them and will have the men playing great ball by next Saturday. The faculty has decided definitely in the Kirkhoff case. He is not to play on the team, the charge being made that he is only in school for the purpose of playing ball. If such is the case the action of the faculty is highly proper. All professionalism should be kept out of the game and if other colleges would follow Purdue's action the sport would be better. It is quite likely that Robertson will go back to left guard and Alward, Smith or Marks may get in as left tackle. Smith's best work was done as a tackle. Bateson and Halstead are showing up well as half backs.—Lafayette Courier.
